Space Hellas is Dell EMC «Partner of the Year»

The highest distinction of “Partner of the Year 2017” was awarded to Space Hellas at the annual award ceremony that Dell EMC organized in order to honour her partners. This special evening took place in the historical building of the Old Athens Stock Exchange on March 29, 2018.

Space Hellas is a Platinum Partner of Dell EMC and she was awarded «Partner of the Year 2017» for achieving their goals on all levels during the year. The awards express Dell EMC’s recognition and respect towards its partners for the efforts and the exceptional results achieved in the year that passed.

Maria Ekonomidou, Dell EMC Country Manager, Greece, Cyprus and Malta, who presented the award, stated: “It is our pleasure to recognize SPACE HELLAS as «Partner of the Year 2017» honouring our partnership that is based on years of mutual trust, respect and sincerity. Our positive experience from working together in the past and the present, constitutes the best guaranty for our customers, that Dell EMC Technologies solutions that are offered by Space Hellas, will lead them with certainty on their digital transformation journey.”

Dimitris Bakakos, Sales Director of Space Hellas received the award and said: “We are notably proud to receive the distinction «Partner of the Year» with which Dell EMC honours us. This award expresses the moral gratification we receive from our ongoing efforts to achieve new goals. It also expresses our commitment to face greater challenges, as well as the true affirmation that Dell EMC and we have developed a strong partnership and a relationship of trust for the benefit of our customers”.
