Space Hellas receives the DELL EMC "Channel Partner of the Year 2018" award

Space Hellas received the highest distinction "Channel Partner of the Year 2018", during the annual event "Dell EMC Partner Awards" organized by Dell to honor and recognize the endeavors of its partners in Greece, Cyprus and Malta. The event took place on March 20th, 2019, in Saroglio Megaro, with the participation of all distinguished executives and partners of DELL EMC.

The award "Channel Partner of the Year 2018" which is won for the second consecutive year by Space Hellas, as Platinum Partner of Dell EMC, recognizes its commitment to provide innovative solutions and services, combined with business excellency, focusing primarily on customer satisfaction.

Mrs Maria Economidou, Country Manager of DELL EMC for Greece, Cyprus and Malta, stated for Space Hellas's award: "We are very satisfied from the cooperation with Space Hellas, a cooperation which is based on mutual appreciation, has been founded upon an honest and long lasting business relationship and which we are looking forward to broaden in new fields. This award is won for the second time, not by chance, and it constitutes a great challenge for Space Hellas".

Dr. Ioannis Mertzanis, CEO of Space Hellas stated for this award: "It is very important to see our excellent long lasting cooperation with Dell EMC to evolve continuously. Today's distinction honors us and rewards our effort to be a pioneer in technological developments. This award empowers our commitment towards offering high quality and innovative solutions to all our customers".
