Morgan Stanley and Athens Stock Exchange Greek Investment Conference

Athens Stock Exchange is partnering with Morgan Stanley for the first time to organize a Greek Investment Conference taking place in London, on Monday 28 and Tuesday 29 November 2022 at the Morgan Stanley London Conference Center. The event is being held in partnership with Alpha Bank, Eurobank, National Bank of Greece and Piraeus Bank.

The Conference aims to support Greek entrepreneurship, by highlighting investment opportunities in the Greek Capital Market and enhancing institutional trust in the country. It will feature a combination of one-on-one & small group meetings between the biggest companies listed in the Athens Stock Exchange and international funds, alongside panel discussion sessions and other networking events and presentations.

Greece's Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis and Alex Patelis, Chief Economic Adviser to the Prime Minister, will honor the event with their presence.

The two-day conference is closed to the general public and the media.
