

Press Release

Athens, February 23, 2023

4th Honorary Scholarship "Dimitris Manolopoulos"

Space Hellas is proud and happy to announce the scholarship recipients, based on the proclaimed "Dimitris Manolopoulos" honorary scholarship for the academic year 2022 – 2023. Ioannis Karabinas, postgraduate student at P.M.D. "Translational Biomedical Engineering & Science" of the National Technical University of Athens and Pavlos Konstantinidis, postgraduate student at P.M.D. "Cryptography, Security & Information Systems" of the Evelpidon Military School, are the two excellent students who were awarded the fourth scholarship in honor of the dear departed Dimitris Manolopoulos, founder of the company.

The company congratulates its fellows, as well as all the other remarkable candidates for their effort and wishes them the best possible progress in their studies.

Dimitris Manolopoulos Scholarships are part of the Space Hellas corporate responsibility program with the aim of giving young scientists the opportunity to realize their ambitions in the field of technology, continuing their studies at postgraduate or doctorate level, in areas related to communication networks, cyber security and artificial intelligence (AI).

The awarding of the scholarships was conducted online on Friday, February 17, 2023, by the Board of Directors of the company and the Candidate Evaluation Committee.

More information regarding the "Dimitris Manolopoulos" scholarships at: www.space/scholarships.

Space Hellas S.A.

Telecommunications, IT, Security Systems and Services – Private Enterprise for Provision of Security Services
312 Messogion Avenue, 153 41 Ag. Paraskevi, Athens, Greece – General Commercial Registry Number: 375501000
Classification ISO27001: Public

Space Hellas Press Office T: 210 6504293 e-mail: press@space.gr