subscriptions are fully paid in advance at the beginning of each calendar quarter, irrespective of the number of days on which the company's securities are traded in the quarter.

6. The value of the company's listed securities is calculated using the formula:

$$\text{VALUE} = \text{NUMBER OF LISTED SHARES} \times \text{AVERAGE SHARE PRICE}$$

(in the last month of the previous reference quarter)

By way of exception, and only in respect of the company's first quarterly subscription, the average share price is considered to be the admission price.

7. ⁴⁶The above shall also apply in cases where new unlisted or listed shares result from the conversion of bonds to shares, provided the conversion does not affect the price of the shares.

8. In cases of detachment of rights when the new shares have not been listed on ATHEX until the last month of the previous quarter, for the purpose of calculating the value of the listed securities, the average price and the number of listed shares in the month prior to detachment of the right shall be taken into account. For the purpose of calculating the quarterly subscriptions, the average price of securities shall be the price computed by ATHEX on the basis of the daily closing prices of each security. The closing price shall be the price at which the last trade was made, irrespective of the date of the session during which the transaction was carried out. In the event there is no "last trade" price, the "last ask" price shall be used. If there is no "last ask" price, the "last bid" price shall be used.

9. In cases where companies increase their share capital either by distributing bonus shares (stock split) or payment in cash, the following apply:

a) If there has been a detachment of rights at any time prior to or during the month on the basis of which the average price of shares would have been calculated as normal (e.g. from 1/10 to 31/12/1999 for the billing of the first quarter of 2000) and the new shares have already been admitted to trading, then the procedure set out in the above paragraphs is followed as normal.

b) If, however, the new shares have not yet been admitted to trading, (i.e. during the month used as the basis for calculating the subscription) then the quarterly subscription of the company in question shall be calculated on the basis of the average price and number of its listed shares in the month preceding the detachment date.

In cases where the share capital increase involves both the distribution of bonus shares and the payment of cash, and only the shares of the first category have already been admitted to trading, the procedure of the immediately preceding paragraph will be followed without taking into account the admission of the bonus shares. The same also applies in the reverse instance, i.e. in the case where the listing of shares against cash payment takes place first.

⁴⁶ Paragraph 7 of article 2.2.1 was removed and the other paragraphs were renumbered as above by virtue of decision 209/23.12.2024 of the Stock Markets Steering Committee of ATHEX with effect as of 01.01.2025.

 - c) 0.0005% for a value of more than €250,000,001.
2. The minimum amount of the quarterly subscription is set at €100.
3. The value of listed transferable securities, on the basis of which the above amounts are calculated, is derived as the product of the number of listed shares and the average price of the last month of the previous calendar quarter. In cases of detachment of rights when the new securities have not been listed on ATHEX until the last month of the previous quarter, for the purpose of calculating the value of the listed securities, the average price and the number of listed shares in the month prior to the detachment date shall be taken into account.
4. Specifically in the case of warrants, for which a registration fee has been paid for the underlying shares, no quarterly subscriptions are payable to ATHEX.

2.2.4 ETF Units

1. In the case of ETF Units admitted to trading on ATHEX, issuers shall pay a quarterly subscription of €300 per ETF.

3. In every case, the respective charge is calculated per contract, except for Options.⁶⁵

4. Stock Options and FTSE/ATHEX-Large Cap Index Options are priced in basis points at the premium (transaction price * contract size * number of contracts) of each transaction, as defined in the table below:^{66,67}

2.2.2.2 Monthly recalculation procedure for commissions on clients' transactions applicable to Stock Futures

Product	Trading and clearing commission in basis points (on premium)

⁶⁵ New elements were added at point 3 of 2.2.2.1. as above by virtue of decision 213/124.07.2025 of the Stock Markets Steering Committee of ATHEX with effect as of 01.08.2025.

⁶⁶ For the period from 01.08.2025 to 30.1.2026, the commissions for all Options are zero pursuant to decision 213/24.07.2025 of the Stock Markets Steering Committee of ATHEX with effect as of 01.08.2025.

⁶⁷ The table was amended as above by virtue of decision 213/124.07.2025 of the Stock Markets Steering Committee of ATHEX with effect as of 01.08.2025.

1. Specifically in the case of Stock Futures, the amount of commissions listed in "TABLE 1" is calculated on a monthly basis in accordance with the following procedure:

a) On the last business day of each calendar month, ATHEX calculates and announces the Average Adjusted Closing Price of each underlying stock during the previous month. For the purposes hereof, Average Adjusted Closing Price means the weighted average of closing prices of the underlying stock in the calendar month of calculation as adjusted in cases of corporate actions which take place during the relevant calculation period in respect of the underlying stock and affect its characteristics.

b) On the basis of the Average Adjusted Closing Price of the stock, ATHEX recalculates the amount commission on clients' transactions in Futures Contracts on the respective stock for the current month. More specifically, the commission on clients' transactions in Futures Contracts on the underlying stock is set for the reference month as the amount that corresponds, on the basis of price intervals, to the Average Adjusted Closing Price of the stock in accordance with the Table of subparagraph 2.

2. Commissions on clients' transactions in Stock Futures are calculated in accordance with subparagraph 1 for each calendar month on the basis of the following Average Adjusted Closing Price scale:

Low Price (in €)	High Price (in €)	Commission (in €)
0.01	0.49	0.05
0.50	0.99	0.10
1.00	1.99	0.15
2.00	4.99	0.20
5.00	9.99	0.30
10.00	19.99	0.75
20.00		1.20

3. If, during the calculation period in accordance with subpar. 1 and 2, a corporate action has taken place which entails a reduction in the size of the Futures Contract on the underlying stock, the commission on clients' transactions in the relevant Contracts is calculated at a fixed rate of €0.05 per Contract for all series affected by the corporate action as follows:

a) If there are open positions in all the series affected by the corporate action, the above commission applies until expiry of all the relevant series.

b) If there are open positions in Contracts in only some of the series affected by the corporate action, the above commission applies until expiry of the last of the series in which there are open positions. Upon expiry of the aforesaid last series, the commission on clients' transactions for series which have been affected by the corporate action but did not have open positions is calculated in accordance with par. 1 and 2 as of the next session immediately following the day of expiry of the aforesaid last series. In such a case, the Average

Adjusted Closing Price for the first month following the day of expiry of the aforesaid last series shall be that of the calendar month preceding the month of expiry of the aforesaid last series.⁶⁸

2.2.3.2.1 Step (1): Initial Charge

1. The initial charge is calculated for market-making transactions carried out in the respective month. Initial charge shall mean the monetary amount calculated as the product of the total number of contracts in listed derivatives, which the Market Maker acquired as a result of its market-making transactions during the month in question, and the fixed charge per contract as stipulated in "TABLE 1" attached hereto. This charge is the aggregate of daily charges, as these arise for the Market Maker on the basis of its market-making transactions during the relevant month.

⁷² For the period from 01.08.2025 to 30.1.2026, the commissions on the MSCI Greece Rebased Index are zero pursuant to decision 213/24.07.2025 2023 of the Stock Markets Steering Committee of ATHEX.

3. It should be noted that the aforesaid commissions are applied to the total number of contracts to which they correspond rather than on a tiered basis. 4. Specifically in the case of market-making transactions in Futures Contracts on the FTSE/ATHEX Banks Index, the following charges are applicable, depending on the number of contracts concluded by the Market Maker on a daily basis:⁷⁴

			Combinations (Time Spreads)
Future Contracts on the MSCI Greece Rebased Index	0,50	0,50	0,25

2.2.3.2.2 Step (2): Discounts based on monthly contract volume

1. A discount is applied to the monetary amount calculated in accordance with Step 1, based on the total monthly volume of contracts in listed derivatives, which the Market Maker acquired as a result of its market-making transactions during the respective month.
2. The percentage discounts on the initial charge are tiered according to each listed derivative and each total monthly volume level, as per the following table:

Options on FTSE/ATHEX-Large Cap Index

1. These discounts apply to market-making transactions of a Market Maker when the relevant transactions relate to Futures and Options with the same underlying asset.

OPAP	0%	0%	5%
PPC	0%	0%	5%

Piraeus Bank	0%	0%	5%

3. The above percentages are aggregated on the basis of the total number of above-mentioned underlying assets for which the Market Maker has simultaneously assumed market-making obligations in Futures and Options, resulting in the total percentage discount.

4. The total percentage discount to which a Member is entitled can under no circumstances exceed fifty percent (50%).

5. The total percentage discount is applied per calendar month to the monetary amount calculated in accordance with Step 2, in respect of each separate futures contract and option with the same underlying asset for which the Member has undertaken market-making obligations.

1. Fees for alerts, as activated in accordance with the admission characteristics of the respective derivatives, are calculated for each Market Maker per calendar month, taking account of all alerts activated for a Market Maker during the month in question. service users have their registered office, as well as the technical specifications of the node through which they are connected to ATHEX-Net.⁸⁹

2.2 ATHEX-Net user connectivity services

This connection is a prerequisite for ATHEX Members and ATHEXCSD Participants⁹⁰ (as well as any other agency receiving the relevant approval from ATHEX) in order for them to gain access to the technology services in the framework of the IT & Communication systems/applications which are provided via ATHEX-Net, such as OASIS and the DSS. For a detailed description of the ATHEX-Net user connection services provided, see Resolution No. 21.

The following ATHEX-Net node types are supported, not including those cases involving the connection of (a) ATHEX-Net users from abroad, (b) Independent Software Vendors (ISVs) and (c) Disaster Recovery-type nodes for which the interface model for connection with ATHEX-Net applies with some slight variations:

1. Type 1.a.1: Configuration of one (1) Cisco ISR4331 router, one (1) Catalyst 2960 switch, and one (1) Metro Ethernet telecommunication circuit,

2. Type 1.a: Configuration of one (1) Cisco ISR4331 router, one (1) Catalyst 2960 switch, and two (2) Metro Ethernet telecommunication circuit, and

3. Type 2.a: Configuration of two (2) Cisco ISR4331 routers, two (2) Catalyst 2960 switches, and two (2) Metro Ethernet telecommunication circuits.

In cases where ATHEX-Net users are connecting from abroad, the User must procure only the Cisco ISR4331 router and at least one (1) high-speed telecommunication circuit.

In cases where ISVs are connecting, as well as Disaster Recovery-type nodes, the User may – on its own responsibility – procure only one of the two telecommunication circuits, which means that in effect the permitted ATHEX-NET user node-type configurations are 1.a, 1.a1 and 2.a.

In cases where ATHEX-Net users are connecting from Greece or abroad for the ATHEX FIX Trading service, in addition to the permitted ATHEX-NET user node-type configurations, it is also possible to connect via Internet but solely with use of an IPSec Lan-to-Lan VPN tunnel.

In all cases of connection to ATHEX-Net, the entire cost of procuring active equipment is borne by Users.

For the use of ATHEX-Net by Members, there is a rebate of €4,000/year. More specifically, the amount is returned at the end of each calendar year and applies only to Members that have discharged their financial obligations.⁹¹
