Business Update up to current date

Significant strategic milestones were achieved in 2024 and early 2025, demonstrating the group's disciplined execution and growth momentum across all business units.

- In Home Furnishings, the new IKEA store in Patra opened in October 2024, while the remodeling of the IKEA store at AIA Park was completed, integrating complementary brands, such as Intersport, Holland & Barrett and Plaisio, home appliances and technology retailer. A new Plan & Order studio also opened in Pernik, Bulgaria in March 2025, while two additional openings are planned, one in the end of April 2025 in Irakleio and one at the Hellinikon in 2028. Finally, we also plan the rollout of new-generation urban IKEA stores in the near term.
- In Sportswear, Fourlis Group entered the athleisure segment through a strategic partnership with Foot Locker signed in August of 2024. The group opened the brand's first stores in Bulgaria in December 2024 and expects to complete the acquisition of Foot Locker operations in Greece and Romania within April 2025. INTERSPORT added 8 new stores in 2024 and launched the world's first INTERSPORT Football Club store in Athens in March 2025, with further expansion planned going forward in Cyprus, Romania, and Bulgaria.
- In Health & Wellness, Holland & Barrett opened four new stores in Greece within 2024, with further growth and new partnerships under review.
- In Logistics, Trade Logistics is preparing to manage Inter IKEA's new International Distribution Center, which remains on track to become operational in 2025.
- In Real Estate, the Group completed a private placement of 16% of Trade Estates' share capital in February 2025. This enables the deconsolidation of Trade Estates, and significantly reduces the retail business net debt by €29 mil., enhancing financial flexibility for future growth.
- In line with its digital evolution and governance priorities, Fourlis group established a Digital Transformation Committee in November 2024 to oversee strategic initiatives in technology, data, and innovation across operations. Digital transformation is a key growth driver for the group, enhancing efficiency and customer experience through advanced technologies.
- The group has also established a Sustainability Committee at the Board of Directors level. Although the group has maintained a dedicated sustainability department since 2008, this new structure reinforces the strategic importance of sustainability across all operations. Anchored in environmental responsibility, social impact, and ethical governance, the group continues to integrate sustainability into its business model—supporting its people, communities, and long-term value creation.

Cybersecurity Incident and Business Impact

As announced on December 2, 2024, Fourlis group experienced a malicious external cybersecurity attack on November 27, temporarily affecting digital systems across all countries of operation. The management immediately activated its incident response plan and, in collaboration with specialized partners, successfully contained and resolved the issue. All actions of the group followed the impact mitigation procedures and the obligations of notification and cooperation with the competent supervisory authorities, as provided for by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Law 4624/2019. The temporary unavailability of some data affected by the incident was restored almost immediately, while the technical report (Forensic) did not prove the leakage of personal data.

The incident caused temporary disruptions in store replenishment primarily impacting the Home Furnishings segment (IKEA stores), and ecommerce operations, during December 2024 through February 2025.

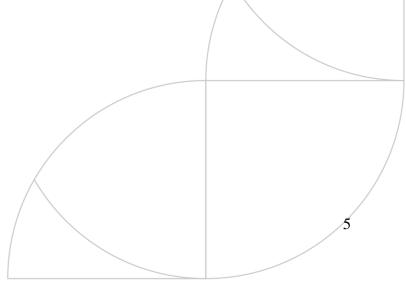

The incident is estimated to have impacted group sales by approximately €15 million, concentrated in December of 2024. However, the group's swift cost adaptation and operational agility enabled it to absorb the impact and still exceed its profitability guidance for the year.

As of March 2025, all systems and data have been fully restored, and trading has returned to normal operating performance. The group continues to invest in cybersecurity and IT resilience, while maintaining its focus on sustainable growth and operational excellence.

Dimitris Valachis, Chief Executive Officer of Fourlis group, commented: "2024 was a pivotal year for Fourlis group. We delivered on our strategic priorities, strengthened our financial position, and exceeded our profitability guidance, significantly improving the profitability of our continuing retail business. Across all business units, we made tangible progress — from the successful expansion of IKEA and INTERSPORT, to our entry into the athleisure segment through the Foot Locker partnership, and the continued growth of Holland & Barrett in the health and wellness space. The deconsolidation of Trade Estates marks a significant strategic step, reinforcing our group's financial flexibility.

In late 2024, we faced a cybersecurity incident that temporarily disrupted operations. However, we responded swiftly and effectively, protecting data, restoring systems, and safeguarding the Group's profitability, as we managed to absorb the effect and still exceed our profit guidance for the year. Looking ahead, we will continue to evolve and innovate to meet the needs of modern consumers, while building on our strengths to shape the next chapter of retail in our region."
