Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Bank of Greece (the "Bank"), which comprise the balance sheet as at 31 December 2025, the profit and loss account and the statement of profit distribution for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Bank as at 31 December 2025 and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting principles and methods established by the European Central Bank (ECB), under the "Guideline (EU) 2024/2941 of 14.11.2024 (ECB/2024/31)", as adopted by the Bank according to Article 54A of its Statute. For matters that may not be covered by the aforementioned ECB rules or whose application is not mandatory but recommended, either the ECB recommendations or the provisions of the Bank's Statute in conjunction with Law 4308/2014 "Greek Accounting Standards, relevant arrangements and other provisions" shall be followed, as appropriate, to the extent that they do not contradict with the provisions of the Statute.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs"), as incorporated in Greek Law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report. We remained independent of the Company throughout the period of our appointment in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("IESBA Code"), as incorporated in Greek Law and applicable to audits of public interest entities' financial statements, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to the audit of the financial statements in Greece, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matter

A key audit matter is this matter that, in our professional judgement, was of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. This matter and the related risks of material misstatement were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on this matter.

For the matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report, including in relation to this key audit matter.

Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Provision against financial risks The Bank recognises, measures and monitors the financial risks arising from its assets such as euro-denominated securities issued by euro area residents, not related to monetary policy operations. In addition, financial risks include risks arising from the exercise of the monetary policy of the Eurosystem which are measured by the European Central Bank. Following a decision of the Bank's Risk Management Committee, which took into account the measurement of financial risks based on the VaR (Value at Risk) method, a provision for financial risks has been established, which amounted to EUR 1,682 million as at 31 December 2025. The measurement process for financial risks (including credit risk and market risk) is complex, involves estimates and methodological assumptions and has a significant impact on the Bank's results. We therefore considered it to be a key audit matter. The Bank's management has provided information on the provision against financial risks in the section IV. Note 11.1 "Risk Provisions" of the liabilities of the financial statements.	In the context of evaluating the process of financial risks measurement, we performed among others, the following audit procedures: 1. Understanding of the process of the financial risks and methodology used by the Bank to recognise, measure and monitor the accounting estimates of provisions and verifying the approvals of the amount of the provision by the competent level of authority within the Bank of Greece. 2. Assessment of the design and implementation of the internal controls related to the measurement of financial risks (credit risk and market risk). 3. With the participation of EY specialists, we reviewed the methodology and the relevant assumptions used by the Bank for the measurement of provisions and performed independent recalculations on a sample basis. 4. Examination of the accuracy and completeness of the Bank's assets used to measure the provisions. 5. Assessment of the completeness and the accuracy of the disclosures in the financial statements related to this key audit matter.

Other information

Management is responsible for the other information in the Annual Financial Report. The other information, includes the General Council's Report, for which reference is also made in section "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements", but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the management and Those Charged with Governance for Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the accounting principles and methods established by the European Central Bank (ECB), under the “Guideline (EU) 2024/2941 of 14.11.2024 (ECB/2024/31)”, as adopted by the Bank according to Article 54A of its Statute.

For matters that may not be covered by the aforementioned ECB rules or whose application is not mandatory but recommended, either the ECB recommendations or the provisions of the Bank's Statute in conjunction with Law 4308/2014 "Greek Accounting Standards, relevant arrangements, and other provisions" shall be followed, as appropriate, to the extent that they do not contradict with the provisions of the Statute, where these have been implemented by the Bank, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting.

The Audit Committee (Article 44, Law 4449/2017) of the Bank is responsible for overseeing the Bank's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs, as incorporated in Greek Law, will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, as incorporated in Greek Law, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bank's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Bank's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Bank to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters.
