Space Hellas: Certification of Managed Security Services as Cisco Powered Services

Space Hellas, a leading Digital Integrator and value-added Service Provider, is very pleased to announce that it has certified as Cisco Powered Services, the following:

- Managed Firewall Service
- Cloud Managed Security Service

Space Hellas' specific services meet the manufacturer's strict technical and operational standards, ensuring high availability, performance, security and best implementation and support practices.

The current certified Managed Firewall Service and Cloud Managed Security Service, combined with the advanced services of the company's Security Operations Centre (SOC), significantly enhance the Cybersecurity portfolio of Space Hellas, offering integrated solutions for prevention, detection and response to cyber threats.

As a result of the successful certification, Space Hellas is upgraded to the Intermediate level of Managed Services Practice Maturity (Premier Provider – previous name), further expanding its strategic partnership with Cisco. This development adds to the company's role as an Integrator, strengthening its position in the Cisco partner ecosystem and confirming its deep expertise and operational maturity in the field of cybersecurity.

This new distinction reflects Space Hellas' continuous investment in technological specialization, with the aim of providing high added value services that safely and reliably support the digital transformation of modern organizations.
