Bally's Intralot signs new contract with British Columbia Lottery Corporation for Shared Services

Athens, April 14, 2026

Bally's Intralot S.A. is pleased to announce that its Canadian subsidiary, Intralot Canada Ltd., has signed a new contract with the British Columbia Lottery Corporation (BCLC) for the provision of Shared Services, an integrated model governed by BCLC, to accelerate the continued evolution of its lottery technology and to strengthen lottery operations, for the benefit of players across the Province.

Under the agreement, Intralot Canada will deliver end-to-end operational and technical support across BCLC's lottery technology encompassing both lottery and technology operations. The contract further includes structured roadmap delivery for the ongoing enhancement of lottery technology and the seamless integration of new capabilities — ensuring BCLC remains at the forefront of lottery innovation.

Pat Davis, President and CEO of BCLC, said, "This collaborative Shared Services model represents a significant advancement in BCLC's digital transformation journey. BCLC looks forward to continuing its partnership with Bally's Intralot in service of a more efficient, streamlined, and resilient operating framework that delivers an elevated experience for our players across both our retail and digital channels."

"This contract builds on the long-standing successful partnership between BCLC and Bally's Intralot, and enhances our presence in the Canadian market," said Robeson Reeves, CEO of the Bally's Intralot group. "We are committed to delivering our best-in-class, fully integrated Shared Services model in support of the responsible growth of the Lottery and the good causes it serves across the Province. This is an exciting new chapter for both organizations, and we look forward to the journey ahead."
